

Accident Investigation - The Facts

DVD VHS
Running Time: 20 minutes

Accidents are not planned and certainly not wanted. But when they do happen, it is important that information from the accident is gathered in a proper and logical manner.

Accident Investigation can help employers to improve their risk management and assessment strategies. It is also valuable in assisting the defence or fair disposal of either enforcement action or compensation claims arising from workplace accidents.

This title covers:

- The first step towards understanding the complex nature of accidents
- The level of investigation required
- How to gather information in a proper logical manner
- The 6 steps of accident investigation

Legislation:
